

NEWS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Contact:

Janelle Schulenberg
Tacet Consulting
612-720-1068
janelle@tacetconsulting.com

Serotek Designs Computer Accessibility Packages for Veterans

VA Packages to be Offered at Blinded Veterans Association Convention

Minneapolis, Minn. – August 10, 2007 – Serotek Corporation, the leading provider of Internet and digital information accessibility software and services, announces three accessibility packages designed specifically for United States Veterans. These packages do not require the use of sight and are available only through authorized Veterans Associations, authorized Serotek dealers, or directly from Serotek Corporation with U.S. Veteran identification.

The first package is called System Access Mobile Network VA. It gives the user 60 months of full accessibility to the Internet from anywhere, and includes described movies, thousands of Internet radio stations, personalized news, blogging, a personal web site, forums, chat rooms, email and more. This package also includes free updates and maintenance for the full 60 months.

The second package, System Access Mobile VA, is Serotek's award-winning System Access software loaded on a U3 smart drive. This key-chain sized memory module can be plugged into the USB port of any Windows enabled computer for instant access to home or work computers from anywhere. It lets the user access programs, files, the Internet, Outlook and Outlook Express, Adobe PDF files and more and operates exactly as if the user was at home or work. When unplugged, System Access Mobile VA leaves no trace of usage on the host computer. No installation is necessary and the package even runs on computers with tight security.

Complete System Access VA is the third package offered exclusively to veterans and is essentially the first two packages combined. For those who want an Internet community and accessibility anywhere, this package allows installation on two computers and a U3 smart drive.

“To honor those who have fought to preserve our freedom, we wanted to provide something special to our valued Vets,” said Mike Calvo, CEO, Serotek Corporation, “Giving them computer access, without reliance on sight, extensive training or a specially adjusted computer, is Serotek’s way of both thanking them while helping them regain their independence.”

All three packages will be available at the Blinded Veterans Association 62nd National Convention, August 14 – 18, 2007 in Albuquerque, New Mexico. For more information contact Serotek at 1-866-202-0520 or sales@serotek.com.

Serotek Corporation

Serotek Corporation is a leading technology company that develops software and manufactures accessibility solutions. Committed to the mission of providing accessibility anywhere, Serotek launched an online community specifically designed to meet the needs of people with disabilities. Since then, Serotek has introduced several powerful, affordable solutions that require minimal training, including System Access, for which it was awarded the prestigious da Vinci award for innovation in universal accessibility by the National Multiple Sclerosis Association. For more information, visit www.serotek.com.

###